Madero Takes Advantage of an Enforced Respite.

IGNORES DEMAND OF ENVOYS

Heart of City of Mexico a Scene of Ruin, Scores of Fine Buildings Having Been Wrecked by Shot and Shell—Fierce Onslaughts of Federals Checked by the Rebel Troops. Losses Enormous.

Mexico City, Feb. 13.—After terrific but unsuccessful attempts to rout General Diaz from the Ciudadela, President Madero took advantage of a truce enforced by the American ambassador and the German minister to move his forces closer around the arsenal and to place in position eight large cannons that he had just received from near the capital. The result of the violation of the armistice was that, when the fighting was resumed, Madero was pouring a storm of shell and shot upon Diaz's stronghold from four sides.

During the three-hour truce, which was demanded by the American and German representatives because of the death or injury of American and German citizens in the fighting, the foreign residents deserted their homes and fled for protection to the embassies or to the suburbs at the north of the city.

When it became known that Madero had turned his back on the diplomats and had ordered another attack on the arsenal, the Americans and other foreign residents awoke to the real nature of their position. Automobiles and carriages were driven hastily through the streets of the foreign colonies gathering up women and children and their belongings and conveying them to the embassies. Hundreds of men among the foreign residents formed armed guards for the embassies and patrolled the streets.

Loss of Life Heavy.

The loss of life in the ranks of the federal columns has been even heavier than it was Tuesday. It is estimated that there were no less than 1,000 killed and 1,500 wounded, with the federals suffering the heaviest losses. Reliable advices coming from the inside of the Diaz lines give the rebel losses in the arsenal building as 22 killed and twice that number wounded.

The heart of the city is a scene of ruins. Solid shot and machine-gun fire have wrecked scores of buildings, and thousands of people are homeless, seeking shelter in the outskirts, but even there buildings are struck by the shrapnel which the Diaz forces are firing across the city to clear the roofs of neighboring buildings which are occupied by federals.

Bursting shells set fire to the Mutual Life Insurance building, from which are flying both American and British flags. Great damage has been done to the Woman's exchange and Porter's hotel by bursting shrapnel shells.

When General Huerta abandoned his headquarters at the Belem prison he only left a small force to protect this important point, and a few hours afterward the prison was assaulted

THOUGHTS

TO END CITY DEBT INTEREST

Karb Suggests Uncle Sam Establish Municipal National Banks.

Columbus, O., Feb. 13.—Means of eliminating interest charges on municipal bonds by the creation of "municipal national banks" and the exchange of these bonds for national bank notes, is suggested in a letter which Mayor Karb has written to Congressman-elect Brumbaugh of this district, asking that he consider introducing a bill in congress which would authorize the establishment of national banks by municipalities.

According to the mayor's plans, such banks would not receive private money for deposit, nor loan their funds or credit. They would simply constitute a means of handling the city's bonded debt in such a way as to free the citizens from all interest charges.

Municipal bonds would assume the same rating as government bonds held now, for they could be exchanged for an equivalent amount of national bank notes, which would be used in paying the cost of the improvement for which the bonds were issued.

Cox Would Not Go Too Fast.

Columbus, O., Feb. 13.—"We want progressive legislation in Ohio to go just as fast as the people will assimilate it, but we do not want any legislative indigestion," declared Governor Cox, in speaking about the work of the general assembly at the Lincoln day celebration of the Jefferson club. In his speech the governor lauded the members of the legislature and paid tribute to the virtues of Abraham Lincoln.

Mansfield Paper Burns.

Mansfield, O., Feb. 13.—The plant of the Daily Shield was gutted by fire which started from an explosion of gasoline in the composing room. The damage is estimated at $20,000.

Bank Robber Pleads Guilty.

Bowling Green, O., Feb. 13.—Albert Peverett changed his plea of not guilty to guilty of burglary and larceny of the Munn bank at Portage, Nov. 19. His confession followed the conviction of William Behrens of Cleveland.

Of all the children born to the children of the late Jay Gould perhaps none has been talked about so much as little Helen and Dorothy Gould. They are the children of Frank J. Gould and his first wife. Their father was divorced and is now married again. But despite all the marital changes of their parents the children have been brought up carefully, yet democratically, and largely under the guidance of Miss Helen M. Gould, their aunt, who is now Mrs. Finley J. Shepard. Helen and Dorothy were the flower girls and only attendants at Miss Gould's wedding.

GOES AFTER STONE TRUST

Government Makes Sensational Allegations in Civil Suit.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 13.—Sensational charges are contained in a civil anti-trust suit for the dissolution of the Cleveland Stone company and its subsidiaries, filed here by order of Attorney General Wickersham.

To acquire a monopoly in the building, paving, curbing and grindstone business, the stone trust is charged with influencing architects "by a money consideration or by conferring favors" to specify its stone in their building plans; maintaining a separate organization of its subsidiaries to enable them to appear as competitors in bidding for contracts; fixing prices of building, paving and curbing stones in the central states, and controlling the price of grindstones throughout the United States by agreements with jobbers and rebating.

Schoolboy Killed at Crossing.

North Baltimore, O., Feb. 13.—Despite heroic action and presence of mind on the part of Baltimore & Ohio Watchman Hicks, which saved the lives of a number of pupils, Walter Kingsley, 9, was ground to pieces at the crossing of the railroad here.

Embezzlement Alleged.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 13.—The police are searching for Martin H. Carter, clerk at the Moreland hotel, on a warrant charging him with embezzling $800 from the Wells Fargo Express company. As clerk, Carter also was agent for the express company.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 13.—Harry Bornstein, 50, proprietor of the Independent Cartage and Storage company, was shot in the breast and four employees of the firm were held at bay in the company's office when a discharged employee brought a revolver into play in a quarrel with Bornstein over wages. Bornstein is in a serious condition. Harry L. Sears, 42, was arrested, charged with having shot to kill.

Asks For Cox Records.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 13.—County Prosecutor Pogue took action which, it is said, may indicate an attempt to indict George B. Cox, when he addressed a letter to Mayor Hunt requesting records of a grand jury which, in 1911, indicted Cox on a charge of perjury in connection with testimony given before a grand jury in 1906.

Proposition is One of the Administration's Big Measures and a Lively Fight is Anticipated—Indefinite Sentence Idea Accepted by Both Branches of the Assembly—Bulk Sales Bill Goes Through.

Columbus, O., Feb. 13.—Indeterminate penitentiary sentences will be imposed on all persons convicted of felonies in Ohio if Governor Cox signs Senator Wieser's bill, which was passed by the house. It previously had passed the senate. The effect of this bill will be in keeping with the ideas of Governor Cox in prison reform. The measure provides indeterminate sentences shall be imposed in all cases where a person has been convicted of a felony, except treason and murder in the first degree. Power is conferred on the board of administration to terminate all sentences, which are to be made general and not limited and are not to exceed the maximum number of years now provided for the various offenses.

Attempt was made in the senate to apply the knife to salaries of judicial officers when the Friebohn bill, reorganizing the judicial system in accordance with constitutional amendments, came up for passage as a special order. Success was attained in one instance. The salary of the chief justice of the supreme court was reduced from $7,500 to $7,000. The bill was passed with this and a few other minor amendments.

The Barthelmeh bill, seeking to impose a fine of $25 to $100 on any person who attempts to drive an automobile or ride a motorcycle while he is intoxicated, was passed by the senate. A jail sentence also is provided. The bill is now ready for the governor's signature.

The bulk sales bill introduced in the senate by Haas of Delaware passed that body without opposition. It compels the consignee to give notice of his intention to sell or transfer to all his creditors before the sale is made. He also is compelled to give a detailed list of his creditors to the purchaser or consignee. A similar law was declared invalid some years ago. The licensing of operators of motor vehicles also is provided for.

STRUGGLE OVER

Naval Bill Precipitates a Row Among Democrats.

ECONOMY FACTION SEEKS CUT

Speaker Clark, Leader Underwood and Chairman Fitzgerald Hold a Conference Over the Entire Appropriation Situation—Chairman of Naval Affairs Committee Opposes Use of the Pruning Knife.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Economy differences among the house Democrats reached the leaders of the Democratic side and efforts were made to reconcile the factions, which threaten to precipitate a struggle over the naval appropriation bill, with its two-battleship provision, when it appears on the floor.

Speaker Champ Clark, Majority Leader Underwood and Representative Fitzgerald, chairman of the appropriations committee, conferred over the entire appropriation situation for the session and Fitzgerald told the leaders in no uncertain terms that the appropriations were mounting to a much larger figure than had been expected. He recommended vigorous cuts in the bills yet to be passed.

After the conference Underwood talked over the situation with members of the ways and means committee. The meeting of the economy advocates took up a resolution asking the ways and means committee to discipline the naval affairs committee

RAPES THE OLD PARTIES

Roosevelt Declares the Progressives Have Come to Stay.

New York, Feb. 13.—Theodore Roosevelt declared war to the knife on both of the old parties. He told the National Progressive club and its many guests at the Lincoln day dinner at the Hotel Astor just what he conceived the party to be and what it stood for. He said:

"The Progressive party has come to stay. It will amalgamate with neither of the two old parties, both of which are boss-controlled and privilege-ridden. We believe that in each of those parties, however, there are hundreds of thousands of good, honest men and women who are progressives, and the only place for them is in our party; we will welcome them in, and we will treat them on an exact equality with ourselves, paying not the slightest heed as to whether they are ex-Republicans or ex-Democrats. We are all Progressives together and nothing else. Ours is the only party competent to mold aright the future of this mighty republic."

The Little Town Is Crowded With Men and Women Who Make Fayette County the Prosperous County That It Is--Domestic Science Exhibits Are Many and Premiums Are Awarded.

The splendid Corn Show and Farmers' Institute of Wednesday and Thursday have thrown our neigh-oring city of Bloomingburg in the light of notable achievement and have given to her state-wide prestige in one of the most important branches of agriculture, successful corn raising.

The expert judge would have had to be told that it was the first time Bloomingburg ever held a corn show and institute, for she certainly "stepped some," and leaves a record that is a high tribute to the "men behind the gun," who so successfully engineered both.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE DEPARTMENT
The Domestic Science Department made splendid showing and one side of the room was filled with such delicious looking cakes and golden brown loaves that it was evident Bloomingburg girls are as expert in culinary skill as the men are efficient in agricultural lines.

Miss Mina Rowe, Domestic Science teacher in the W. C. H. High school judged this department.

The awards in the Domestic Science department were:

Class A, 2 loaves salt rising bread —1st, Mrs. Sarah B. Evans; 2nd, Ella Lynch; 3rd, Mrs. W. A. Bruce.

Class B, 2 loaves yeast bread—1st, Mrs. H. W. Bussert; 2nd, Miss Ellen Woodland; 3rd, Mrs. S. B. Whitten.

Class C, fruit cake, open to all—1st, Flossie Straley; 2nd, Mrs. A. T.
West; 3rd, Mrs. Della W. Allen.

Class D, angel food cake—1st, Mrs.
Edmund Klever; 2nd, Mrs. Ralph Allen.

Class E, white cake—1st, Maude Eichelberger; 2nd, Miss Lucile Jefferson; 3rd, Miss Stella West.

Class F, dark cake—1st, Ella
Lynch; 2nd, Bessie Junk; 3rd, Mrs.
A. P. Thompson.

Class G, doughnuts—1st, Nina M.
Smith; 2nd, Mrs. Ella Foster; 3rd, Lizzie Whiteside.

Class H, white cake, open to all girls under 16 years—1st, Pauline Haynes; 2nd, Clara Whaley (from Children's home); 3rd, Mary Mildred Parrett.

FIRST ANNUAL FARMERS' INSTITUTE.
Simultaneously with the Corn show the first annual Farmers' Institute was held in the Presbyterian church of Bloomingburg, and proved as thorough a success in its distinctively educational line, as was the show in its different mission.

The sessions were brimful of interest, with a large body of intelligent, wide-awake farmers constantly in attendance.

The only session at all disappointing was the opening one, the intense cold preventing early arrivals. It was opened with a beautiful vocal duet by Mrs. Howard Jefferson and Mrs. Quincey Kincaid. Following the invocation by Rev. Jewett, the president, Mr. R. G. Jefferson, delivered an excellent introductory address.

The president called attention to "Progress" with a capital "P", as it has been written on every page of our country's history; called attention to the men of science, who have given to the world the results of their profoundest thoughts and investigations, and to the improved methods which make possible modern farming.

Especially pertinent was Mr. Jefferson's suggestion that the future demands of every farmer, his best thought and action to secure the welfare of his country and calling.

The two state instructors at the institute were C. R. Wagner, of Arlington, O., and Horatio Markley, of Mt.
Gilead, O.

In the morning, Mr. Wagner treated of "Principles That Must Be Recognized in Animal Breeding", and Mr.
Markley on "The Advantages of Live Stock Farming." Mr. Markley emphasized the necessity of balancing the corn ratio, in stock feeding, by growing foods high in proteans, and advised that every farmer grow an extra ton of clover hay, also of alfalfa and of soy beans. The latter he advocated as helping to solve the protean problem.

The speaker said that it would mean $1,000,000 to the state if the oats crop would be cut out and soy beans grown instead.

Mr. Markley asked that the institute consider the bill before the legislature which would put the control of the department of agriculture under a committee of four, rather than under the present management.

Secretary H. A. Pinkerton read a letter from Secretary Sandles calling attention to the importance of boys becoming interested in the 1913 corn contest.

The church auditorium was full Wednesday afternoon and the large audience listened with absorbed attention to one of the most interesting talks of the institute, when C. R.
Wagner presented, "The Boys' Acre of Corn Contest".

A speaker both forceful and entertaining, Mr. Markley introduced his address by impressing the importance of agriculture as the source of food supply to all branches of business.

The heads of government, the railroads, all lines of big business find this subject of vital interest. The chemist with all his skill has never been able to manufacture good bread or butter or other necessities of life that must come from the dirt.

The Boys' Corn Contest offered a proposition that appealed at once to bankers and business men. They were more willing to put up the money for the training of these boys to more profitable farming than the farmer was to put up the boys.

Mr. Wagner's account of the way the contest boys worked for that trip to the national capital was most interesting. Some of the 1200 boys fell by the wayside, just as some men do, but 510 made good, with an average of 85 bushels to the acre, and two of these were Fayette county boys.

Mr. Wagner told of one acre he saw under cultivation, where the boy had put all the manure he could get and 650 lbs. of fertilizer. No wonder he went to Washington! Another boy picked his acre in the middle of the field, because he said bugs and grass hoppers worked on the edges first and he thought he'd let them get "Dad's corn first." The contest developed the grey matter in more ways than one.

The boy who had the champion acre, with 139 bushels, selected a drained acre, put 15 loads of manure on, several hundred pounds of fertilizer and then went over to the alfalfa field and hauled from there. He was careful in his seed testing and says he's going to raise 150 bushel this year.

This coming year the State Board will give $745 in cash prizes to boys, $50 to the best, $45 second and so on down to $5. It will set aside $880 for girls, $19 to each one if the county raise $40. The county selects one or more of these seven practical branches for a contest, baking and canning, kitchen gardening, lawn, plain sewing, poultry, butter making.
The speaker closed with advice to drop the "Sears & Roebuck" and like catalogue purchases and patronize the home merchants, who sell cheaper any way, and are the ones upon whom the farmer can depend.

There was some discussion over the question as to the desirability of an expert demonstrating farmer agent to be secured for the county.
The Institute voted against it.

During the Wednesday afternoon program a splendid quartet of Bloomingburg singers, Mrs. Quincey Kincaid and Mrs. H. Jefferson, Messrs.
Mart Morris and Raymond Scott sang and Misses Ercel Stitt and Martha McCoy played a very pretty piano duet.

Thursday brought a great crowd to Bloomingburg from all the surrounding country and the programs again aroused keenest interest.

The officers of the initial institute at Bloomingburg were all well known farmers and as competent in their management as were those of the corn show. They were: President,
R. G. Jefferson; vice-president, H. W.
Wilson; H. A. Pinkerton, secretary; John N. Browning, treasurer; executive committee, H. K. Stewart, M. L.
Dickey, J. E. Hopkins.

he cannot come.

HONORS FOR CHIEF RABBI.

King Alfonso Desires to Repair the In-the Inquisition—Government Would Open Schools in Turkey For Advancement of Commerce.

Madrid.—Advances showing a strong desire on the part of the Spanish government to attract back to Spain the Sephardic Jews of Turkey, whose ancestors were driven out of Spain centuries ago, were made during a recent visit of the Marquis de Nantouillet, the Spanish minister of Constantinople, to the Chief Rabbi Nahoum.

The Spanish minister expressed to the chief rabbi his regret that M. Na-houm had not invoked the protection of the Spanish government for the 70-000 Judios Espanoles at Saloniki as well as that of the British and French ambassadors. The marquis added that if the Jews had suffered through the inquisition it should not be forgotten that Spain, too, had suffered heavily from the consequences of the acts committed centuries ago. Official Spain as well as the people, he said, was anxious to repair the great crime of their ancestors, which they felt was the blackest in their history.

The chief rabbi replied that he was deeply touched by the action of the minister and that the fresh advances made by him could not fail to produce an excellent impression on the Jews of the east.

Before leaving the chief rabbi the Spanish minister invited him to pay a visit in his company to the Spanish cruiser, Rana Regente, which was anchored in the port. M. Nahoum accepted the invitation. As he boarded the vessel the officers and men in full uniform presented arms and ranged themselves around the chief rabbi. The Spanish minister thereupon addressed the men as follows:

"I have the honor to introduce to you the venerated and esteemed chief of all the Jews in Turkey, your own fellow citizens, whose ancestors were unjustly and cruelly driven from Spain.
It is to this venerable chief that the government of his majesty the king, as well as his people, is addressing its desire to repair the injustice of which we feel we are still experiencing the bitter consequences."

He added that the occasion was doubtless the first for almost five centuries that the head of the Jews in the east had set foot upon a Spanish warship.

The commander of the cruiser entertained the chief rabbi at tea and thereafter conducted him through every part of the vessel. Upon leaving the ship
M. Nahoum was honored in the same way as when he had first boarded it, and the Marquis de Nantouillet informed him that he would be pleased if Jewish families would visit the cruiser, for which purpose he placed steam launches at their disposal.

The Spanish minister stated that in the event of Saloniki's being detached from Turkey his government would regard very favorably the return en bloc of all the Jews in that city who were of Spanish descent. The Spanish government, he stated, was willing to open at its expense Jewish schools in Salonki or the hinterland, where instruction would be given in Spanish, the knowledge of which would facilitate commercial relations with Spain and all other countries where that language is spoken, and he declared that French or any other foreign language—above all, Hebrews—could be taught in those schools.

The "Collegiate Quartet" Equals High Expectations In Grace Church Concert

Bitter Cold Weather Does Not Deter Washington Music Lovers. and Large Crowd Greeted Finished Artists.

WIDE RANGE COVERED IN PROGRAM SELECTIONS

Enthusiastic "Recalls" By the Audience Created Enthusiasm and Reciprocal Appreciation on the Part of the Soloists--A Success in Every Way.

Not in several seasons has a Washington audience enjoyed a richer musical treat than the brilliant concert of Wednesday night, given by "The Collegiate Quartette," of New York City.

The quartette is composed of soloists of reputation in the musical world, who have been together in quartet work until their voices are in wonderful harmony—a harmony that testifies to long practice. Their ensemble work is admirable, the exquisite tone blending, and artistic shading only possible in finished artists.

The Quartette appeared under untoward circumstances, Miss Corinne Welsh, contralto, having missed train connection and having to be brought over from South Charleston by auto. With easy nonchalance and dry humor, Mr. John Young, tenor, made the announcement of her tardiness and also of the failure of parcel post to bring their programs. The tenor's clever introductions of each number compensated for the missing programs.

The Quartette gave a repertoire of classic, operatic and lighter ballads and madrigals, varied to please any audience, but high class throughout. Their operatic numbers made the most appeal to the audience and were brilliant in the extreme.

Mr. Young, a dramatic tenor, who has been associated with foremost singers of the day, possesses a voice of lovely quality and his "Beloved It Is Morn", was one of the evening's most beautiful numbers.

Miss Corinne Welsh also appeared to advantage, her contralto, rich and sweet. Her encore lullaby was exquisite.

The soprano, Mrs. Edith Chapman Gould, was none the less pleasing, the lyric qualities of her high soprano effective in both solo and quartet.

Mr. La Rue R. Boals, the bass, sang his part splendidly, his voice powerful and of notable range.

The quartet had with them a most artistic accompanist in Miss Eleanore Stanley, who also played two beautiful piano numbers with great brilliancy.

Attack Renewed With No Effect

Special to Herald.

Mexico City, Feb. 13.—Bombardment of the rebel stronghold was renewed by the Federal force this morning without effect.

Falls Headlong Down Stairway

Mr. Hugh Simpson, of Lakeview avenue, Millwood, is suffering from severe injuries sustained by a dangerous fall from the top to the bottom of the stairway in his home.

Mr. Simpson was in the act of going down the stairway and in the darkness he missed one of the steps and fell to the landing below where he was picked up for dead. However after being unconscious for a short time he regained consciousness and is now on the road to recovery.

He suffered some bad cuts and bruises about the head and shoulders.

Circus Visits City Tonight

The Hagenback-Wallace circus, in detail, will show at the Colonial tonight, several thousand feet of film being devoted to the performance, and all of the daring stunts of the show will be vividly portrayed.

Several rings will be in action at one time. The elephants are shown taking a swim in a river. The circus is complete, even down to the peanut vender.

Remodeling The Palace Theater

The work of remodeling the Palace theater was started by Contractor L. A. Barger, and when finished it will present a much more attractive appearance.

The entire front will be torn out and replaced with one finished in mahogany and white, with plate glass about the ticket booth, which is to be in the center some seven feet from the front line of the building.

The lobby will have a tiled floor with huge mirrors on the side walls. The entrance ways will be sloped instead of steps. The seating capacity will be increased by the change, and the place will be very attractive.

Old-time Teacher Dies in Columbus

After suffering for several years from the effects of a paralytic stroke, Professor Benjamin F. Blanpied, former college professor and inventor of a telephone device and father of John Blanpied, teller in the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank, died yesterday at his residence, 1422 Oak street, at the age of 65 years.

Professor Blanpied had the distinction of perfecting the telephone, in co-operation with a professor of Tufts college, at almost the same time Alexander Graham Bell perfected it. For some there was a dispute as to whom really deserved the credit.

He is survived by his widow, one son, a daughter, Mrs. John Varnum, Peacham, Vt.

Short funeral services will be held at the residence at 9:30 tomorrow morning, after which the body will be taken to Hanover, N. H., for burial.—Columbus Journal.

Mr. Blanpied was a teacher in the Bloomingburg academy in the early seventies and frequently returned to visit in Fayette county.

Seventy Men Are Captured

Special to Herald.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 13.—Militia under Major Davis surrounded the strikers' camp near Holy Grove this morning and captured 70 men who will be tried for participating in a riot in which ten men were killed.

IN SOCIETY

Mrs. W. B. Woodward gave hospitable entertainment to the fortnightly Kensington of the Ladies' Guild Wednesday afternoon. Despite the cold there was a good attendance and a very pleasurable afternoon.

In honor of Lincoln's birthday, Mrs. J. T. Tuttle read "A Perfect Tribute to Lincoln." Miss Mazie Kessler played two beautiful violin solos accompanied by Mrs. Cary Howland.

The beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rodgers of above Bloomingburg, was gayly enfeited Tuesday night, when Mrs. Rodgers entertained twenty couples of young Bloomingburg society people, in compliment to her sister, Miss Flora Armbruster, of Columbus.

Dancing, cards and a delicious collation contributed to a delightful evening.

A number of conflicting entertainments interfered with the crowd at the dance given by the Ladies of the G. A. R. in their hall Wednesday night, but those in attendance found it a thoroughly pleasurable affair, with the ladies excellent managers.

Horstman and Ramsey furnished the best of music and refreshments were served.

The entertaining committee, Mrs. E. E. Ginn, chairman, had the dance arrangements in charge. The proceeds were for the encampment fund.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Messrs. Wm. Fogle and J. W. Sever are spending a couple of days in Columbus to hear Billy Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hitchcock go to Columbus Friday to attend the funeral of Prof. Benjamin F. Blanpied.

Miss Iva Lote is very ill at her home on the corner of Temple and Delaware streets.

Washington friends will be interested to learn of the recent appointment of Clarence Pinkerton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. S. Pinkerton, as city street car inspector of Cincinnati, with headquarters with the service director in the city office. The position is one which has just been created by the city officials and is a very flattering one for so young a man. Mr. Pinkerton graduated from the Cincinnati university last August.

Mrs. Tabitha Hunsicker, of Williamsport, was Miss Marie Pursell's guest from yesterday until today.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho Patterson have moved from the Waterloo pike above Manara to the Add Duff farm, which Mr. Patterson will operate the coming season.

Mrs. Mary Patton and Mrs. Jacob Stuckey spent Wednesday in Columbus to hear Billy Sunday.

Mrs. Spencer Calvert and daughters, Misses Mabel and Ethel, were visitors in Columbus the past two days to see Maude Adams in "Peter Pan."

Mr. F. W. Cline, president of the Bloomingburg Corn Show now in progress, goes to Xenia Friday to judge the corn show there.

Mr. and Mrs. Clemmer Paul, of Akron, are visiting Mr. Paul's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Paul.

Mr. Chas. Sever, of Urbana, Ill., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Sever, near Madison Mills.

Mr. Thomas Moss, Mrs. H. C. Carr and Miss Mildred Moss, Mr. Walter Moss, Mrs. Susie Dabe and daughter, Madonna, are in Dayton attending the funeral of Mrs. Moss' mother, Mrs. Margaret Clough.

Mr. H. K. Stewart spent Wednesday at Radnor attending a Duroc pure-bred hog sale.

Mrs. Parker Tanzey is down from Columbus for a few days.

DIMPLES AT $26 EACH.

Fashionable London Women Submit to Wounds to Enhance Beauty.

London.—Artificial dimple making is not confined to Paris. Inquiries show that it is being done in London too. A well known "beauty specialist" says fashionable women are now having artificial dimples produced on their faces.

The cost of making permanent dimples ranges from $26 to $52. The process usually lasts a fortnight. A small cut is made in the skin. The wound is then bound up and dressed daily until healed. The dimples most in demand are little depressions near the corner of the mouth, which show themselves when the owner smiles. It is also possible to produce dimples lasting for a few hours.

FIND MASTODON SKELETON.

Quarry Workers Unearth Bones of Forty Foot Animal.

Nashville, Tenn.—Workmen digging thirty feet underground in a quarry six miles from Nashville discovered the skeleton of an animal forty feet long. The teeth and parts of the jawbones were perfectly preserved, but the other bones were so brittle they crumbled at the touch.

Professor W. E. Myer, member of the American Geological society, visited the place and said the bones were those of a mastodon which probably lived 100,000 years ago. An examination of the strata leads him to believe there is a cave near by which probably will yield other valuable scientific discoveries.

"Had we lived I should have had a tale to tell of the hardship, endurance and the courage of my companions, which would have stirred the heart of every English man. These rough notes and our dead bodies must tell the tale. But surely, surely, a great and rich country like ours will see that those who are dependent upon us are properly provided for."

That brief note, written under appalling conditions with certain death in the ice and snow of the far Antarctic regions allowing to the doomed man but a few minutes to pen his last farewell, is the full history of a man and a patriot.

The note was found beside the dead body of Captain Scott, the English explorer who had been successful in his expedition begun nearly three years ago, to reach the South Pole. He perished of cold and starvation in a severe blizzard on the homeward journey.

With the discovery of the North Pole by Peary and the South Pole by Admunsen, the world, surfeited now days with wonderful achievements—with the so long unattainable attained—people forget the perils of the arctic campaigns.

Captain Scott after untold hardships and with wonderful daring and ability reached the South Pole only to find that Admunsen had succeeded in attaining the goal but a short time in advance of him.

Most of the busy world forgot the fight the brave Englishman was waging in the success of Perry and Admunsen and only the tragic death compels the world to realize that only by the rarest combination of fortunate circumstances were the expeditions of Peary and Admunsen successful.

Brave, able men of course. But their successes coming so close together must not deceive the people into the belief that nature has withdrawn her icy grasp from the domain so long kept from man.

"Surely, surely, a great and rich nation" like Great Britain will see that those who were dependent upon the brave men who gave up their lives in the solitudes of the icy mountains, will see that those dependent upon them are provided for.

The intrepid Englishman while enduring the last agonies of death by starvation, when he indicted this last appeal, left proof that generous and brave as he was, he was not unmindful of the worthlessness of glory in a material world. The repetition, "surely surely", evidences the only fear he possessed. Not afraid to battle with the elements, not afraid to die like a soldier, but could it be possible that "a great and rich country" would fail to provide for those he loved and who depended upon him—the words which expressed a fear of that possibility were his last.

"Surely, surely, a great and rich country" will prove that shadowy fear to have been groundless.

The pathetic feature of the tragedy in the Antarctic regions has touched the heart of the Christian people of all the earth as nothing else, which has occurred in years.

Public Has Awakened to Power of the Press

By TALCOTT WILLIAMS, Dean of the Pulitzer School of Journalism, Columbia University

EDUCATION, legislation and public opinion are today each concerning themselves not with editors or newspapers, but with the whole fabric of the periodical press, daily, weekly, monthly. Laws seek to regulate its advertisements and to secure publicity for its ownership and circulation.

THE PUBLIC HAS AWAKENED TO THE PUBLIC RELATIONS OF JOURNALISM. JOURNALISM HAS BECOME THE ORGANIZED SOCIAL CONSCIOUSNESS OF THE COMMUNITY AS A WHOLE.

The press as a whole has BECOME ONE OF THOSE ORGANS, like the bench and bar, the medical calling and boards of health, the body of teachers from the primary school to the university, the network of religious organization through which society both knows its needs, makes up its myriad mind and finally acts.

A Small Leak Will Sink a Great Ship

You may spend as you go, paying no attention to the opportunities to save which are advertised by progressive merchants, but you will find sooner or later that little expenses count up to large sums.

A loose, here-and-there buyer can quickly squander all her money by forgetting the value of the little purchases.

Care in expending the small amounts will quickly repay the economical housewife.

Every night in its advertising columns THE HERALD points the way to many opportunities for stopping the small leaks. Special sales are advertised by the merchants. In small things, such as soaps, ribbons and notions, there may be just one penny off the regular price. But when you add them all together you will find that the pennies number a dollar or two.

Read all the advertisements in THE HERALD closely and constantly every night for opportunity to save not only pennies but dollars.

Poetry For Today

GROWING OLD.

How the hours flit as we grow old!
The day before this seems a tale that is told.
The weeks and the months of the years that have flown
The sights and the scenes of the times that are gone,
The paths of our childhood, with footprints now cold,
More and more seem a night dream as we grow old.

How the heart looks back as we grow old!
The ties of the past now their charms on it hold.
The friends and the mates of the days that are fled,
The ones, once so dear, numbered all with the dead!
The hush and the stillness start memories untold!
Yes, the heart lingers backward, as we grow old.

How the head turns gray as we grow old!
The strands of its locks now their splendor uphold.
The toll and the cares of the charge that we've kept
The tears, like a stream, that so many have wept!
The breath of the seasons leave imprints now bold,
For the head blooms with gray hairs as we grow old.

How the soul needs rest as we grow old!
The life, so near run, will its frailty unfold.
The love of the Christ, who died on the tree,
The blood that He shed to redeem you and me,
The home of the blessed that passeth pure gold,
Are the soul's only refuge, when we grow old.

WALES A "HOOT MON."

Prince Practices on Bagpipes For Chest Expansion.

London.—The Prince of Wales was ordered to practice the Scotch bagpipes as a means of expanding his chest, which is below the normal for his age and height. The statement that he adopted this weird instrument because of inclination was a polite invention.

The captain of the Scots guards' pipers goes to Oxford once a week to give the prince a lesson. Owing to the extraordinary and terrifying noises made by the learner the college authorities are bestirring themselves to find a sound proof room for the heir apparent to the throne. His lessons disturb the whole college.

Certain irresponsible undergrads got up a band of pipers provided with six-penny toy pipes, with which they paraded the quadrangle, but they were promptly suppressed.

Spread Fame Of Washington

This city is being advertised throughout this part of the United States at the present time because of the fact that the banner Young Men's Christian Association of the world is located here, and has recently sprung into prominence by the campaign for 400 new members in four days.

Newspapers throughout the state have carried photographs of the building and Secretary Zaner, while other newspapers throughout central United States have carried announcements that the banner Y. M. C. A. of the entire land is located here.

Wednesday's Columbus Dispatch is among the newspapers carrying large pictures of the local association building and Secretary Zaner, and it is generally agreed that there is no better way of advertising a city than publicity on the fact that Washington has the largest membership of any Y. M. C. A. in towns under 16,000 population in America.

WILSON PLANS FOR IMPORTANT TOURS

To Visit Panama and Philippines While President.

Washington.—Washington officials expressed interest in a rumor that originated with persons who have seen Governor Wilson lately that the incoming president has already decided on two and possibly more trips out of the United States during his administration. These are to the Panama canal and the Philippine Islands.

The president elect is said to have expressed the intention of visiting Panama after the close of the extra session of congress this year to witness the completion and informal opening of the canal.

He also is said to be anxious to make a study of the Philippines at first hand before endeavoring to have congress grant them freedom. This trip would necessarily be put over until after the close of congress in 1914.

He is also understood to be desirous of visiting Alaska some time during his administration.

Few Samples Of Incorrect Speech

Are either and neither pronounced "ether" and "neether" or "eyether" and "neyther"? This question, much disputed, is answered in favor of "either" and "neither" by Julian W. Abernathy in a useful little book, entitled "Correct Pronunciation," and published by Charles E. Merrill of New York. Not a single modern dictionary gives "eyether" the preference, says the little book, and goes on to quote Richard Grant White, who says, "eyether" is an affectation and a second rate British affectation at that. Which should hold the "eyether" advocates a while.

And now about the word vase. It's pronounced "vace" whether it comes from the ten-cent store or Tiffany's "Vase" is wrong, says the book, and "vaws" is vulgar. Another tally for us old-fashioned folks.

Perhaps you've been confused by hearing people talk about "rice" and finding out afterward that they meant the noun "rise." Well, they were wrong, too. A straw vote of the best modern dictionaries hands the preference to "rise" as the proper pronunciation.

Another word that is frequently mispronounced is depot. It should be "deppo" not "deppo" or "daypo." Our old friend Jean Valjean, of course, is properly "Zahn Valzhan," and the great state of Kansas is pronounced as tho the first s were a z.

The folks who insist on making it soft are all to the bad.

J. Pierpont Morgan is a financier, not a "fynanceer."

The Renaissance is pronounced "renesans" accent on the last syllable, not reynaysans, and Salome gets her last syllable pronounced.

Poets are filled with the divine "afflaytus" not the divine "afflaatus."

The ruler of Japan is the Mikado, with the accent on the second syllable, as all serious minded students of Gilbert and Sullivan know, and never the Mickado.

Gibberish is pronounced with a hard g, and not "jibberish," and the word flaccid is "flaksid," not flasd. Amateur is "amaturr," not amatoor or amachoor.

The Antipodes—Australia, you know—are pronounced "antipodeez." When the wind sighs thru the branches it "sows," never "suffs." A faucet is a "fawcet," not a "faset."

"Careless and slipshod enunciation among presumably cultured people," the author says, "is probably more common in the United States than in any other country in the world. A Frenchman is proud of his speech and treats it as a fine art, while an American regards his speech with indifference or contempt."—Exchange.

FLAG AT HALF MAST STAUNCH LITTLE SHIP PUTS SAFELY IN PORT

SURVIVORS OF SCOTT EXPEDITION ON BOARD

Antarctic Ship Terra Nova Arrives at New Zealand Port.

Christ Church, N. Z., Feb. 13.—Captain Robert Scott's Antarctic ship, the Terra Nova, with her flag at half-mast, arrived here with the survivors of the Scott expedition on board. The survivors had very little to say.

Lieutenant Evans made some brief references to the experiences and isolation of the party under Lieutenant Campbell, who had charge of the eastern end of the expedition, which was landed at Cape Adare by the Terra Nova and which had to remain all winter in an igloo in a snowdrift. Asked in regard to Captain Scott's shortage of fuel, Lieutenant Evans said that he had enough for a month beyond the time in which he was expected to return. The diaries of all the members of the Scott party are intact and will be sent to their relatives. Lieutenant Evans and others will compile Captain Scott's book on his discovery of the pole and the experiences of his party.

WHEALEN PLEADS GUILTY

Fined by Court For Questionable Negotiations With Slater.

Columbus, O., Feb. 13.—The last of the bribery cases which arose at the time of the investigation of Mark Slater, state superintendent of printing, in 1910, was disposed of when Charles Whealen, Dayton, pleaded guilty to obtaining money under false pretense and was fined $500 and costs by Judge Rogers in criminal court. Whealen is an ice manufacturer and at one time was a director of a large Columbus ice and refrigerating plant. He also was interested in several strawboard plants in Dayton. He was charged with buying tar board for book backs from the Queen City Paper company, Cincinnati, and selling it to the state. He was accused in three counts of selling $1,524 worth of the board and then not delivering that amount. He admitted that he benefited to the extent of less than $35 by his questionable negotiations with Mr. Slater.

RAILWAY FIREMEN ORDERED TO STRIKE

Forty Thousand to Walk Out Sunday at Midnight.

New York, Feb. 13.—The strike of the members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen which has been pending for nearly a week will be declared on Friday night on the 54 railroads involved in the demands, and will go into effect on Sunday at midnight. This was decided after a conference between President Carter and the Brotherhood.

The managers of the roads, acting in all matters in concert, have announced that men have been hired to take the places of the strikers and they will put forth every effort to prevent a tie-up of the lines. These men are understood to have been recruited in the last two months.

It was said by a high authority in the brotherhood that it has at present $538,000 in the treasury to be used in emergencies, and that it will be able to levy assessments on the members of the firemen's organization in the south and west.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

HORRORS OF TITANIC DISASTER ARE RETOLD

Stories of death, suffering and permanent physical injuries; accounts of utter financial destitution and recitals of loss of costly gems and laces and gowns are to be found set forth in the formal phrasing of the law in the 270 claims thus far filed with United States Commissioner Gilchrist for damages due to the Titanic disaster.

The total amount is $5,500,000. Death claims constitute the larger part of this sum.

The largest claim is that of Mrs. Irene Wallace Harris, widow of Henry B. Harris, New York theatrical manager. She asks $1,000,000 for his death. She also demands $27,700 for loss of her effects and $4,625 for his. On a pearl string $10,000 is claimed by Mrs. Harris, on a set of diamond vest buttons $350, and on a gold cigarette case, $100.

The smallest claim is for $16.60 registered mail lost by Mayer & Muller, of Germany. The most costly, single item listed is a pink diamond on which Charlotte D. M. Cardeza of Germantown, Pa., claims $20,000.

The least expensive single item is an eye cup, for which Fred O. Speeden, of New York, wants 25 cents. He asks $1646 for other belongings.

$300,000 FOR HUSBAND.
The second largest damage claim is that of Mrs. May Futrelle, of Plymouth, Mass., who asks not only $300,000 for the loss of her husband Jacques Futrelle, novelist, but $4,791.50 for his baggage and $44,378, 50 for hers. Manuscripts and plans for books she values at $3600.

The third largest claim was filed by Mrs. Elizabeth C. Case, of Rochester, asking $300,000 for the death of her husband, Howard B. Chase. He was managing director of the Vacuum Oil Company and drew $20,000 yearly.

For the deaths of William Skoogh of Sweden, his wife and their four young children, Mr. and Mrs. Anders Johanson, grandfather and grandmother of the dead man, ask $125,000. They want $2250 besides for baggage.

Mrs. Lily Millet, widow of Frank D. Millet, artist, claims $100,000 for his death.

No death claim is made by Mrs. John B. Thayer, of Haverford, Pa., widow of a vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad. But she seeks $14,910.50 for loss of the family baggage.

Eighteen hats are rated at $650 and $30 is claimed for a set of ivory dominoes.

Lewis F. Butt, executor of Mayor Archibald W. Butt, one of the heroic figures of the wreck, says the mayor had seven trunks and $1000 is claimed therefor.

Jessie Farquharson an executor of Daniel W. Marvin, of New York, who was on his honeymoon when he died, asks $200,000.

The heaviest claim for loss of baggage is that of Charlotte D. M. Cardeza, who claims $177,352.75.

Another big claim for loss of personal effects is that of H. B. Steffanson of the Hotel Gotham, who asks $102,030. He values a painting by Blondel, "La Circassienne au Bain," at $100,000.

The Right Hon. Lucy Noce Martha, Countess of Rothes, Leslie House, Fife, Scotland, asks $12,425 for her wardrobe. Her maid wants $400 for hers.

Mrs. Catherine Hartbeck of Toledo, widow of W. H. Hartbeck, wants $25,000 for his death and $55,823.84 for his belongings. Among these were 110,000 feet of moving picture films, which she values at $55,000.

The Merchants' Marine Insurance company asks $132,000 for twenty-six property schedules on which it has paid insurance.

One of the pathetic claims is that of Mrs. Angele Noutal, of London, England, who writes to Commissioner Gilchrist on heavy mourning paper. She says she is destitute as the result of the death of her husband, Rahman Noutal.

"I am totally unprovided for," she writes, "and have a little daughter and my mother to support. From the Lord Mayor's fund I am now getting $20 a month, hopelessly inadequate for three people. I have written three times to the White Star line. They have replied, regretting they could do nothing and referring me to the charitable funds."

Helen C. Candee, asks $10,000 for personal injuries and $4,046 for baggage. She says she was forced to jump from the deck of the Titanic to a lifeboat, that there was no proper arrangement of oars or equipment.

The Total Cost.

Melton C. Weeks, the millionaire guanine manufacturer of the West, in the course of a talk before the Drug Club on the pure-drug law, told a drug story.

"Dear knows!" said Mr. Weeks, "we ought to give the people pure drugs—we charge enough for them. Sometimes I think we drug dealers would get along better if we didn't show ourselves so greedy in our charges. We are too much like a druggist I once knew in Santa Fe."

"A miner rode into town one day, complaining of dyspepsia, consulted a doctor, and took his prescription to my druggist friend to be made up."

"Well, how much?" asked the miner, when the prescription was finished.

"Let's see," said the druggist. "It's a dollar ten for the medicine and fifteen cents for the bottle. That makes—"

"He hesitated, afraid he might have forgotten something, and the miner said impatiently."

"Well, hurry up, boss! Put a price on the cork and let us know the worst."

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Probing Bauman's Testimony.
Columbus, O., Feb. 13.—Investigation of the testimony of Albert V. Bauman of Sandusky, on behalf of Former Mayor C. A. Bond and Former State Senator Dean of Fremont, whose trial ended Tuesday night when the jury disagreed, is under way. Prosecutor Turner said he did not believe the wet and dry question entered into the juryroom discussion, as the jury was big-classed and fair-minded. He said the difference in contention was due to the testimony of Mr. Bauman.

Firebug Confesses.
Wilmington, O., Feb. 13.—On Oct. 27, 1912, the Odd Fellows' building at Westboro was burned after three attempts. The fire marshal's office has made every effort to detect the criminal. The prosecuting attorney was surprised when Joe Berger walked into his office and made a confession. He charges that Carl Neible, an occupant of the building, hired him to do the job. Sheriff South arrested Neible just as an insurance inspector was in the act of making a settlement of the loss.

Girl's Body Exhumed.
Delaware, O., Feb. 13.—The body of Mildred McFarland, who died in Detroit last October, was exhumed in Oak Grove cemetery. The stomach of the dead girl is now in the laboratory of Professor G. O. Higley, head of the Ohio Wesleyan chemical department, who will make an examination. Ever since her death Mrs. Frances McFarland, the mother, has contended that there were suspicious circumstances connected with it.

Plaintiff Awarded One Dollar Damages

After wrestling with the evidence for some six hours Wednesday the jury in the case of Pearl Shears against John M. Kneisley awarded the plaintiff damages in the sum of $1.

The Shears-Kneisley case has been occupying the attention of the court most of the week, and has been one of more than passing interest owing to the questions involved in the suit. Pearl Shears, a rural mail carrier of this city, brought action to recover damages in the sum of $775, which he alleged was due him as a result of injuries sustained when a horse which he had purchased from Mr. Kneisley and which he claims Mr. Kneisley had recommended as being quiet and not afraid of motor driven vehicles, ran away with him and severely injured him, besides demolishing his mail wagon.

It was also calimed that the horse in question had been purchased as a young animal, but the allegation was made that it was somewhat ancient.

Gregg and Gregg represented the plaintiff and C. E. Baughn represented the defendant.

A Study Of Early Fossils

The earliest animals on the earth were no doubt soft creatures of simple structure whose dead bodies left few traceable impressions in the mud and sands in which they were buried. The successors of these early unknown animals acquired from generation to generation protective coverings whose remains in the older rocks are now studied by paleontologists. The fossil shells of these early invertebrates are of great importance to the geologist, for they indicate the geologic period in which the beds containing them were formed. Each fossiliferous rock bed contains characteristic forms or groups of forms that determine the period in which it was mud or sand.

The economic importance of paleontology has been repeatedly shown in this country. In the earlier exploration of anthracite coal thousands of dollars were fruitlessly expended in New York in search of coal beds until the New York geologists showed that the beds in that state could contain no coal. The fossils in the rock exploited are Devonian, whereas the fossils of the Pennsylvania anthracite coal beds belong to the Carboniferous, a much later period. The discovery at once stopped a useless expenditure of money. The fossils of these rocks were not of "merely academic interest," they were of immediate practical importance. The key to the problem was found by determining the stratigraphic position, or, as it is called, the "geologic horizon" of the fossils and the rocks.

Rock beds that were originally nearly horizontal became in time tilted or even overturned, so that the original relation of the beds may be difficult to determine. Furthermore, the rock beds at any one place do not represent a continuous series of deposits, for as most beds were laid down in water and as sea bottom may have become land and afterward again became sea bottom the story of the rocks is not everywhere clear. In times of doubt and perplexity the geologist therefore turns to the paleontologist for light on the age and original order of the beds he is studying. The study of the animal and plant remains that are embedded in the rocks has thus become an important part of geologic work, and although those who are engaged in this study are few and are rather poorly paid for their services, their work is of high importance.

FINDS GOLD WHERE TOLD.

Directions Left by Man Who Died Sixteen Years Ago.

Mayfield, Cal.—"Go to the bald peak and wait until the setting sun casts the shadow of the dead redwood; then dig where the shadow ends."

Such were the directions received by Steve Perkins, a woodchopper of the Alpine district. He is now richer by $500, for the money was there in gold.

Twenty years ago Perkins saved the life of Nathan Comstock, an eccentric resident of Woodside, and the letter just received was written by Comstock, who died sixteen years ago.

While the letter bore no identification other than a San Francisco date stamp recently affixed in the postoffice of that city, Perkins believes that it was posted by the executor of Comstock's estate.

A FRIEND IN NEED

Just a Bit of Life as It Cropped Out on a Railway Train.

A TOUCH OF REAL HUMANITY.

The Rough Looking Man Who Proved That His Heart Was Big and in the Right Place and the Shabby but Grateful Foreigner He Befriended.

"Whenever I hear anything nowadays about 'man's inhumanity to man,' said a Providence citizen the other day, 'I am reminded of a little incident. I was coming back from Boston with a friend on the midnight train, and getting on board at the Back Bay station, we found a seat near the rear end of the car.

"Soon after the train pulled out I happened to look around and saw the conductor apparently expostulating with a rather shabby looking specimen of humanity who was sitting in the last seat. At first I thought the man was drunk, but as I watched I saw that he was a foreigner who couldn't understand English. He was holding out a crumpled one dollar bill to the conductor and saying 'New York' over and over again.

"Finally the conductor shook his head, said something I couldn't catch and went on. The foreigner, a rather decent looking young fellow, gazed at him despairingly, then buried his face in his hands and began to cry. With the usual callous indifference of the traveling public to the troubles of any one else, I paid no more attention to the man and prepared to take a nap.

"I was just beginning to doze when I became aware that a man was standing beside me in the aisle, speaking to me. I sat up and looked at him. He was a rough appearing man, far from prepossessing, clean shaven, with a sort of bulldog face.

"Say, gents,' he began, 'I want to know if you wouldn't like to help a feller out.'

"I stiffened instinctively, determined to refuse to let him make a 'touch.'

"There's a poor young foreigner back there,' he went on with a jerk of his thumb toward the alien, still sitting with bowed head, 'and he's up against it for fair. He can't speak a word of English, and he wants to go to New York, where he has friends.

"He got the idea somehow he could do it for a dollar, all he's got; but, of course, he can't, and they're going to put him off the train when we get to Providence. It's mighty hard on a feller like him, and there ain't any telling what'll happen to him getting put off in a strange city at 1 o'clock in the morning. I thought maybe you'd be willing to give a little to help him along.'

"He stopped, looked us straight in the eye and smiled sheepishly as if he were ashamed of what he was doing. We gave him a dollar, and he went on through the car, and there were few of the passengers who didn't respond to the appeal. He came back counting the money, and as he got to our seat I heard him say:

"There's a dollar more needed—I'll make it up myself' and he pulled out a couple of fifty cent pieces and added them to the amount.

"The conductor and the brakeman were standing at the door of the car near the foreigner's seat.

"Here,' said the man who had collected the money to the alien; 'give me your dollar.'

"Dumbly, but trustingly, the young fellow handed it over, and, giving it to the conductor with the rest, the bulldog man said gruffly:

"There's his fare.'

"It slowly dawned on the alien what had been done for him, and as the conductor punched the rebate check and handed it to him the gratitude in his face was indescribable. He couldn't speak, but he took his cap off and bowed again and again to the official, but the latter pointed to the passenger who was sitting in his seat across the aisle and told the youth that he was the one to thank.

"The foreigner crossed the aisle till he stood squarely in front of his benefactor, took off his cap and, with tears of gratitude in his eyes, bowed again and again. It was evident enough that the benefactor was embarrassed by this unexpected outburst. At first he waved his hand around the car to indicate that everybody had had a hand in it. But he couldn't make the foreigner understand. The latter kept on bowing, whereupon the uncomfortable individual in the seat grunted and turned to look out of the window.

"I have never seen," concluded the man who was telling the story, "a kindner—if I were a girl I should say a sweeter—act of charity in my life. Sitting across the aisle, this hard faced man had heard the story of the foreigner, helpless, alone and frightened, and out of pure goodness of heart, without any necessity for doing it, he had taken upon himself the ungrateful task of soliciting money from the rest of the people in that car to help out a man he'd never seen before and would probably never see again."—Providence Journal.

CAN PHOTOGRAPH IMAGES OF BRAIN

Claim of French Army Officer. Paris Says "Tut!"

Paris.—Commandant Darget of the French army is trying by a further series of experiments to convince the Academy of Medicine of the truth of his theory that the human body sends out a certain kind of X rays by means of which ideas in the mind can be photographed.

His idea is that these mental images can be visualized and then transferred to a sensitized photographic plate by merely pressing the plate against the body. For his purpose he covers the sensitized plate with printed matter, puts the plate in an opaque envelope and then presses it against the body. In this way he is able, he asserts, to develop in a few minutes a negative or positive photographic impression, according as the person is electrically negative or positive.

The sum total of Darget's theory is that the human body contains light rays. To this proposition the Academy says "Tut, tut!" or words to that effect. Whatever appears on the sensitized plate, the academy argues, is simply the effect of the printer's ink.

Darget is going to Vienna and Berlin to reproduce his experiments in the universities of those cities.

Professor Schiff is one of those who have asked to be shown what there is in Darget's X ray notions.

JAIL EMPTY TWO YEARS.

Pike County, Pa., Evidently Free From All Crime.

Philadelphia.—Not a single jury trial in nearly two years is the unique record of Pike county, according to Presiding Judge Charles B. Staples of the Pike-Monroe district.

"The county jail is empty," said Judge Staples. "There are no cases on the court calendars, either criminal or civil, and I journey to Milford, the county seat, every three months to go through the formalities of holding a court where there are no trials."

NO CASTE AT OXFORD.

Duke's Son and Cook's Son Share Alike in Sports and Studies.

Actually there is no university or college in America at which distinctions of birth or wealth count for less than they do at Oxford. There was once a time when there existed a class of "gentlemen commoners"—John Ruskin, I believe, was one of them—who enjoyed special privileges and exemptions.

But that peculiarity has long since been swept away. Not only are the requirements for graduation identical for all comers, but the social life within each college of the university is open on equal terms to every one on the roll. "Duke's son" and "cook's son" share alike in sports and studies, and it is personal qualities alone that determine the position an undergraduate holds among his contemporaries.

The late F. W. Walker, for many years so successful as high master of St. Paul's school, was once interviewed by the rather snobbish mother of an intended pupil. "Of course," she said, "you are very particular about the parents of the boys you admit to your school." "Not at all, madam," was his reply. "As long as your son behaves decently and attends to his work we shall not ask any questions about his parents."

The head of any college at Oxford or Cambridge might have given a similar answer.—London Cor. New York Post.

TO WARN MINERS OF BAD WEATHER

Bureau Seeks to Lessen Deaths From Explosions.

Washington.—For the purpose of warning mine operators at times when explosions are likely to occur as a result of atmospheric pressure conditions, the United States weather bureau is notifying the mine owners throughout the country that it will inform them, if they so desire, when extra precautions should be taken. In its circular the weather bureau declares that "when there is a marked fall in atmospheric pressure the chances of mine explosions are greatly increased."

Dr. Joseph A. Holmes, director of the United States bureau of mines, expressed the fear that "the warnings themselves may add to the risks and dangers in mines where gases occur in dangerous quantities." Investigations have been going on for the last two years, he said, as to the influence of weather conditions, especially atmospheric pressure as indicated by the barometer, upon the amount of gas in coal mines, but the results obtained to date have not been conclusive.

"As to the value of warnings," Dr. Holmes declared, "that will depend upon the way in which they are used. If, as is hoped, they serve to make miners and mine operators more careful when these warnings are issued and not less careful at other times, they may do good in mines where gases occur in dangerous quantities. If, however, they should serve to make miners and operators less careful during the extended intervals between the receipt of such warnings, the warnings may increase the hazards of mining in these coal mines and thus indirectly be the cause of disasters. It should be remembered that a large portion of the mine explosions in the bituminous coal fields are dust explosions, and most of these occur in what are called non-gaseous mines. These will hardly be influenced by atmospheric pressure."

Professor Edward F. Bowle of the weather bureau, who has studied the questions, said there was no doubt that atmospheric pressure increased or decreased danger of mine explosions, depending on whether the pressure was low or high respectively, and that in England warnings similar to those proposed here had been issued for some years. The bureau's conclusion, he said, had been the result of careful observation, both abroad and in this country.

GALLOWES LUMBER FOR COOPS.

Hangman's Scaffold Will Serve Less Objectionable Purpose.

Reno, Nev.—Put in chicken coops is to be the ultimate fate of the lumber used in constructing the gallows on which the first legal execution ever held in the state of Nevada took place. This occurred in the courthouse yard in this city, July 31, 1877.

The man hanged was J. W. Rover, who came to Nevada in 1861 from Stockton, Cal. He was convicted of murdering Isaac N. Sharp by striking him over the head with a blunt instrument and then shooting him. The execution was performed by A. K. Lamb, sheriff. The sheriff cut the rope which held the trap with a hatchet, and death was almost instantaneous.

The gallows has been lying in the wooded back of the county jail for years. Recently the shed was torn down and the gallows taken to the county hospital, where the lumber will be used in making chicken coops.

BABY BY PARCEL POST.

Lusty Youngster Just Squeezed Under Eleven Pound Limit.

Batavia, O.—Vernon O. Lytle, mail carrier on rural route No. 5 out of this place, is the first man to accept and deliver under parcel post conditions a live baby. The baby, a boy weighing ten and three-quarter pounds, just within the eleven pound weight limit, is the child of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Beagle of near Glen Este.

The "package" was well wrapped and ready for "malling" when the carrier got it. Its measurements reached seventy-one inches, also just within the law, which makes seventy-two inches the limit. Mr. Lytle delivered the "parcel" safely to the address on the card attached, that of its grandmother, Mrs. Louis Beagle, who lives about a mile from its home. The postage was 15 cents, and the "parcel" was insured for $50

DO YOU LIKE ROSES?

Would you like to receive, express paid, 6 strong and well-rooted rose plants, all different and each variety distinguished for size, beauty, fragrance and brilliancy of color?

If so, read on. We have completed arrangements whereby these roses can be shipped direct to you by one of the leading horticulturists of America, providing your order is received during the month of February, 1913.

DESCRIPTION

Climbing Meteor Rose
is the ideal red climbing rose. Full, free and hardy, and literally loaded with deep red flowers. The climbing Meteor is just the rose for you to train up the porch and around the windows at home.

Bessie Brown,
a rose whose beauty has taken the country by storm. It is strong growing, free blooming, and one of the finest roses in cultivation. The large flowers, highly built and double, are creamy white in color, with a pale and tender flesh tint. It is highly scented and a magnificent rose in open grounds.

Rhea Reid,
a rose of the type of the American Beauty, but of the easiest culture. It opens its large flowers perfectly under all weather conditions, its colors varying with the temperature, from a bright cherry-rose to a rich crimson and scarlet.

Mme. Abel Chatenay,
a glorious bedding rose with rich bright foliage. It is strong, healthy and a profuse bloomer. Borne on long stems, the flowers are large and full, with recurved petals, shaded rose-vermillion.

Champion of the World, a vigorous grower, delightfully fragrant and almost invulnerable against the attacks of insects. An ever-blooming rose of rich glossy pink.

These plants were rooted early last spring and will be shipped from 3-inch pots direct to you. Such plants would ordinarily cost more than $1.00. During the remainder of this month we will offer them as follows:

Economy May Be Rock on Which Party Split

for increasing the naval bill. The bill, as framed by the committee, would carry about $145,000,000, and the economy advocates insist that it should be cut about $20,000,000.

Underwood called on Representative Padgett of Tennessee, chairman of the naval affairs committee, and urged him to endeavor to cut down the bill. Mr. Padgett called the Democrats together, but they were unable to agree on any reduction.

The economy advocates, who are about 50 strong in the house, declare that they will filibuster and prevent the passage of the bill at this session unless the amount carried is materially reduced. They will hold another meeting tonight, and unless something is done in the way of reducing the bill in the meantime, a resolution by Representative Sisson of Mississippi will be taken up, which would request the ways and means committee to remove the entire Democratic membership of the naval affairs committee for extravagance and failing to live up to the party's platform pledges.

tion picture machines will become necessary if law is made of a bill offered by Representative Black, which provides for a board of three examiners to be appointed by the governor. Another bill is pending for the creation of a board of censors to pass on motion pictures.

Among the many new bills which were introduced was the "blue sky" measure, which was offered by Representative Clark of Hamilton county. It is one of the administration's big measures and the object of the bill is to regulate the sale of bonds, stocks and other securities. That outside interests will strongly oppose the passage of the bill is almost certain. Already literature attacking the bill is being circulated.

Massillon, O., Feb. 13.—Clinging to the pilot of a freight train which had struck him while going 30 miles an hour, Frank P. Bedford of Wooster, with his left hip crushed in three places, saved his own life by setting the air brakes from the pilot and stopping the train.

Bonaparte's Resolve.
Napoleon entered the club-house with a frown a foot deep on his forehead, and a temper not fit for publication.

"Mille tonnerres!" he ejaculated. "If I ever play golf with Bacon Munchausen again, may I end my days on the island of St. Helena."

"What's the matter with Munch, Boney?" asked Caesar, looking up from his asbestos copy of the Congressional Record.

"You get nothing but bad lies all over the links," retorted the Emperor.

Draught Proof.
"Is there a Christian Scientist in the room?" asked a little man, one of the audience at a lecture.

"Yes," responded a woman, "I am a Christian Scientist."

"Well, then, madam," said the little man, "would you mind changing seats with me? I'm sitting in a draught!"

and captured by the rebels. Between 2,000 and 4,000 prisoners were liberated and are now at liberty.

American Quarter Under Fire.
As General Diaz continues to shell the center of the city, the American quarter is again suffering from the artillery fire. and many buildings which escaped damage in the first battles have been pierced by solid shot and cannister. A shell burst in a building a few doors from the American club, blowing almost its entire front out. The street is filled with bricks and debris.

Federal outposts were harassed by a band of 300 Zapatistas under the command of Alfonso Morando.

With the cessation of firing, the corps of Red and White Cross ambulances, surgeons and nurses began a movement through the zone of battle, removing the wounded and hurrying them to nearby hospitals, where staff surgeons and nurses gave medical aid and relief to the hundreds who were wounded. Noncombatants, including women and children, took advantage of the rest and fled panic-stricken through the streets. Many abandoned all of their possessions.

THREE AMERICANS SHOT

Woman Killed, Another Wounded and a Man Blown to Atoms.
Mexico City, Feb. 13.—One American woman was killed and another seriously wounded during the engagements between the forces of Madero and Diaz. They are Mrs. H. W. Holmes and a Mrs. Griffith. The women occupied a house near the arsenal which was struck during the firing by a shrapnel shell and practically demolished. Mrs. Holmes was killed outright. Mrs. Griffith received probably fatal wounds. She was removed in an ambulance to a neighboring hospital.

Mr. Wise, an American, was blown to pieces by an exploding shell at the gate of the arsenal, while attempting to deliver a message to General Diaz.

TAFT WILL PASS IT UP TO CONGRESS

Intervention In Mexico Likely If Situation is Not Eased.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Dispatches to the state department from Mexico City show that another period of hard fighting has passed without a decisive victory for either side in the bloody contest for the control of the government and capital of Mexico. Continuation of the fighting can have but one result, and that is the complete demoralization of both sides and the utter lack of any dominant force to which this government can look as the responsible authority in Mexico.

It was made clear that the administration feels it has done all it can do in the present stage of the Mexican situation in sending warships to Mexican ports. Further than this, it can be authoritatively stated, President Taft will not go on his own responsibility. He will not attempt to take more drastic action without putting the entire matter before congress and leaving it to that body to decide whether the United States shall embark upon a Mexican policy which every military man and every diplomatic official knows would mean a long and costly war with Mexico.

Every preliminary was arranged for the action which this country may take. Thirty-five thousand men of the army, navy and marine corps were put in readiness for movement.

The first brigade of the first army division, just created in the reorganization, 3,000 men in all, and the nucleus of an expeditionary force of 15,000, was put on marching orders, ready to entrain for Newport News, Va., where army transports wait under steam.

SWITZERLAND IS READY FOR WAR

Little Republic Can Mobilize 100,000 Men in a Day.

FIRST BIG SCARE SINCE 1870

Massing of Troops by France and Germany a Warning to Alpine Ruler. Every Man Has Weapon and Uniform at Home and Can Report Promptly at Nearest Barracks.

Geneva.—There is a widespread belief in Switzerland that war between France and Germany is inevitable.

On her French and German frontiers Switzerland has seen the gradual concentration of large forces of soldiers during the last two months. The frontier forts, especially Belfort, and those opposite from Mulhouse to Istein are on a war footing.

Since the beginning of the year the Swiss federal authorities have begun to take precautions. All papers have published officially an article stating that in "the event of war" the Swiss in Europe must return to the army at once, while in the second zone of countries, including America and other continents where the Swiss are liable to military service, they must hold themselves in readiness to return.

There will be no mobilization in Switzerland, because 100,000 men can be at their posts in twenty-four hours, 250,000 men in forty-eight hours and 500,000 within a week.

Every man and officer of the citizen army has a rifle, ammunition, uniform and everything at home and can answer the general roll call at the nearest barracks within a few hours. Briefly, the Swiss army can give its great and powerful neighbors twenty-four hours' start and still be ready before them.

This is the first time since 1870 that the Swiss government has taken matters so seriously. Even the dangerous Agadir incident found it calm and hopeful.

Cereals of all kinds which were ordered in America and Canada, because the usual Russian supply had suddenly failed, owing to the Balkan war, are arriving to fill the almost empty government storehouses.

Farmers have been warned to have their horses in good condition. Chief surgeons and doctors have received official letters from Berne asking them to state whether they would like to follow the ambulance in the field or remain at a base hospital in one of the towns.

HISTORIC TROWEL FOR STATE.

Hammer Also Used at Capitol Cornerstone Laying Given Governor.

Albany.—Governor Sulzer was presented by Colonel and Mrs. Gorham Rice of Albany with the trowel and hammer with which, on July 7, 1869, were laid the cornerstone of the state capitol. Colonel Rice's father, William A. Rice, and Mrs. Rice's father, John V. L. Pruyn, were in charge of the ceremonies and retained possession of the tools.

They were presented to the governor as representing the people of the state, encased in a handsome mahogany box. Upward of $26,000,000 has been expended on the capitol since 1869.

Find $1,000 Nugget.
Deadwood, S. D.—What is believed to be the richest piece of quartz ever found in the Black Hills has just been taken out of the Summit mine, near Hill City, which for years has been yielding rich finds of gold from seams and streaks.

While working in a drift on the 165 foot level the miners ran across a glittering piece of rock. It weighed four and one-quarter pounds and contained $1,025 in gold.

This is said to exceed the richness of even the famous chunks taken from the old Holy Terror, Uncle Sam and other rich mines in the hills.

Shaving Needs

We have shaving needs which will appeal to the up-to-date man who shaves himself. Old style or safety razors, strops, shaving soap in cakes, sticks or cream and powder form.

As a body builder and strength creator for young and old, we strongly recommend our cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol.
